

THEATRE BIO

DUSTIN CURRY is a Portland-based actor, magician, clown and street performer. Regional theatre credits include Dallas Children's Theater, Fort Worth Opera, Cara Mía Theatre Co., Hip Pocket Theatre and Theatre Three. He toured for 4 years in the title role of The Time is Out of Joint: A Study of Hamlet for the Oklahoma Shakespearean Festival. In 2013, Dustin performed with the Choctaw Nation at the Smithsonian Institution. His work has been featured at the Kansas City Fringe and Dallas's Festival of Independent Theatres. He is a graduate of the MFA program at Dell'Arte International School of Physical Theatre. www.dustincurry.com

THE BIO I GIVE TO THE COOL VENUES:

DUSTIN CURRY was born in the back seat of a taxicab (conceived there, too). Despite being a Portland-based actor, clown, magician, and street performer, he wishes he was a manatee. Dustin has performed at the Kansas City Fringe, Dallas Children's Theatre, the Festival of Independent Theatres and the Smithsonian (yes, that one). Dustin barely graduated from Dell'Arte International School of Physical Theatre with his MFA and will NOT be returning to Southeastern Oklahoma State University any time soon. Portland's 4th favorite magician. www.dustincurry.com